The Pigeon Should Not Drive the Bus

The pigeon should certainly not drive the bus.

First, the pigeon is very bossy, impatient and easily distracted but a bus driver must be careful, calm and responsible to drive safely. The pigeon is not a safe driver.

Also, a bus is a huge vehicle. The pigeon is too small to see out of the window, and he cannot reach all the controls so he must not drive.

Most importantly, only a trained driver should drive a bus. The pigeon does not know the road rules, so the bus could crash. A bus driver must keep the passengers safe.

For all these reasons, it is obvious that the pigeon should not drive the bus. We must keep the passengers safe and let the real bus driver do the job.

The pigeon absolutely must not drive the bus!
